OUTCOME of the Activity with respect to mission vision of the institute and or academics:

Sustainable menstruation is about being mindful of the environmental impact of disposable sanitary products to reduce your personal waste that contributes to environmental degradation. Across our lifetime, we will each dispose of approximately 15,000 single-use plastic sanitary pads or tampons. For years, the way we manage our period has involved using plastic sanitary pads - which are terrible for the environment. The plastic in pads and tampons that you use today will still be sitting in landfill hundreds of years from now.

Sexual orientation and gender identity/expression are important aspects of a young person's identity. Understanding and expressing sexual orientation and gender and developing related identities are typical development tasks that vary across children and youth. For example, some youth may be unsure of their sexual orientation, whereas others have been clear about it since childhood and have expressed it since a young age. To create the awareness, the activity was conducted.
